U.S. Regulations Now Make Warning Devices Compulsory

Big things are happening with Eflares in New York. The following was issued in February...

NFPA 1901-2009 Changes: Additional loose equipment requirements now say the operations must carry five fluorescent orange traffic cones, five illuminated warning devices such as flares, one traffic vest for each position and one automatic external defibrillator.

This is being seen as the first of a many such regulations with considerable flow-on to fire departments across the U.S.

New Trade Show Stand

Eflare now has these specially designed all-steel trade show stands available. They pack easily into an Eflare black bag and are incredibly versatile as well as taking up very little floor space.

This is a custom-designed unit and by far the best way of showing Eflares and getting noticed at trade exhibitions.

New Counter or Shelf Display

This is the all-new Eflare display stand. It folds together from flat cardboard and quickly erects into a durable holder of up to 12 Eflares.

Great for displaying the range of Eflares.

They are available free from Eflare on Telephone:
